

LEGAL ISSUES, INDUSTRIAL & OPERATIONAL MANAGEMENT
(HUM-2217)

Department of Humanities

Shoaib Islam

Assistant Professor (Management)

Department of Humanities, RUET

Academic Qualifications:

MBA- University of Rajshahi

BBA- University of Rajshahi

HSC- Dr. Mahbubur Rahman Mollah College, Dhaka

SSC- Shamsul Haque Khan School & College, Dhaka

Research Interest:

- ☐ Human Resource Management,
- ☐ Management
- ☐ Industrial Management

Chapter 1 - Introduction

What is Law?

Law is a system of rules that govern a society with the intention of maintaining social order, upholding justice, and preventing harm to individuals' property.

What is Industrial Law?

Industrial law is used to denote laws passed for the purpose of regulating the conditions under which work is carried out in factories and other establishments and the relationship between employers and employees.

What is Labor Law?

Labor law is designed to control and govern the continuous process by which workers and employers decide the terms and conditions of employment. It is a legal framework that governs the rights and responsibilities of employers and employees in the workplace.

Difference between Industrial Law and Labor Law

Industrial Law

1. Industrial law is used to denote laws passed for the purpose of regulating the conditions under which work is carried on factories and other establishments

2. Industrial law is a law which is related to Industry.

3. The scope of industrial Law relating to different industries.

4. It is important for proper rules and regulations of industry.

5. It can include a wide range of legal topics from employment law to environment concern contract, industrial relations.

Labor Law

1. Labor law is a set of legal forms relating to the employment relationship which defines the rights and obligations of employees and employers

2. Labor law is a law which is related to workers, employers and trade union etc.

3. The scope of labor law is relating to industrial relations ordinance, payment of wages and workmen's compensation etc.

4. It is important for workers and employers in industry.

5. It includes the benefits of worker, conditions of leave, social security for workers.

Why Students of ECE Should Learn Law?

1. Intellectual Property Rights
2. Compliance
3. Contracts and Agreements
4. Liability and Responsibility
5. Ethical Considerations
6. Startup and Entrepreneurship
7. Regulatory Changes
8. Communication and Collaboration
9. Risk Management